Project Information:

Two years ago, RD Herbert installed a complete Rheinzink gutter system on the log cabin. When the owner was ready to install a new matching porch roof in 2008, he again requested RD Herbert for fabrication and installation.

Detail:

The scope of work also includes flashing, edge metal, gutters and a small flat lock roof area. Rather than a downspout the owner chose to use copper rain chains to channel water from the gutter to the ground.

We develop solutions that stand the test of time.
